

A Gift For You in '22

It's that time of year to make a resolution
To get things in order, and I've found a solution.
It's with much love that I gift you this book.
It's not your average read but please take a look.

You see, when it's time to leave this mortal coil
I wonder if you would rather be ashes or soil,
To have a fancy coffin to show your worth
Or a simple box that won't cost the earth.

The money saved will go to good use.
At the wake, we'll have nice wine, not just juice.
Do we say our goodbyes in a church with a priest?
Or the RSL or bowls club, followed by a feast?

And is black the colour of your farewell
Or do we dress up as bright clientele?
I want to do what's right by you
To tell your story of what is true.

I'll be sad and I will grieve
But what a gift I would receive
If you were to let me know what you think
So, at your farewell, I can mourn and drink
Knowing that everything is in its place.
Let's do this now, just in case.

Chances are you won't go any time soon
It happens to us all though, no one's immune
A little bit of prep now will save some grief
For those left without you, it'll mean relief.

The Bottom Drawer Book is your After Death Action Plan
Because I want to celebrate you as best I can.
